- To encourage public discussion among the students.
- Freshman Debate meets once each Monday evening to plan debates, to hear debates, and to debate debates. This year's club had about twenty active members and held debates on subjects ranging from college and local problems to international problems. Kleinman, Welch, and Behoteguy out-debated the Sophomore team in the annual Freshman-Sophomore argument held May 11.

WESTMINSTER CHURCH

Our early American forbears spoke of their Church as the Meeting House. On Sunday morning the College Chapel becomes our meeting house. Here, at the invitation of Westminster Church, students meet with the people of the community in a service where common aspirations and need find expression. Youth challenges age to enthusiasm of faith and conquest, and age challenges youth to confidence and hope and stability of purpose. Here, under the inspiration of a beautifully dignified worship service and thoughtful preaching, these people meet in quiet reverence with God and try, with his insight, to see their own needs and the needs of their world. Here purposes are molded, ideals are strengthened, and life lifted above the commonplace.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The summer session is no longer a tentative and doubtful feature of collegiate education. It is distinctly an integral and vital part of the cultural and social life of the college. All courses in the summer session of the College of Wooster have full credit value, and instruction is given by regular members of the teaching staff. Increasingly, students are taking advantage of the benefits of summer school work.

- To maintain the discipline among the men students.
- The Men's Self Government Association comprises all the men of the College. The official representatives are the heads of the sections, the president of Douglass, and an elected representative of the town men. This group meets every three weeks, more or less, to discuss the affairs of state, to legislate and to enforce discipline.

Working with the Men's Self Government is the Kenarden Council, consisting of the section heads and the faculty advisors. The Council discusses the broad, general phases of various problems, and the Men's Self Government legislates thereon.

STUDENT SENATE

- 1908
- Ralph Sterling Henderson, president
Emil Nicholas Albu, secretary
William James Westhafer, treasurer
- A successful experiment in student self-government.
- The Senate is not merely the glorified dance committee that its critics claim it to be. Of course, it has charge of the All-College dances. But in addition it controls the Homecoming Day celebrations, the Gum Shoe Hop, and the Color Day Pageant.

CONGRESSIONAL

- 1908
- Ralph Sterling Henderson and Charles Davis Cremeans, speakers.
 William James Westhafer and Francis Delano Layton, clerks.
 John K. Mitchell and James William Everson, chaplains.
- To study and debate current social and political problems.
- Congressional has steadfastly adhered to its original principles. Yearly the Club brings to the campus some outstanding statesman or economist. Each election year the Club sponsors a mock convention, at which the College expresses its political convictions and about which the alumni wag their grey heads reminiscently. Nine seniors, seven juniors, and four sophomores comprise the august membership.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

■ 1926

- Gordon Henry Mattison, president
Janelle Brenneman, vice president
Evangeline Lea White, secretary
Charles Albert Schneider, treasurer
Mary Z. Johnson, advisor

- To promote international good will on the campus.
- International Relations is made up of thirty-five students, all interested in world affairs. The year's work began with a review of the international affairs of the summer. In subsequent meetings students and faculty speakers talked and led discussions on more specific topics. The costume banquet was March 3. Senator Gerald P. Nye was the Club's guest speaker on April 24. He spoke on the munitions racket and the discoveries made by his investigating committee.

- 1925
- Edward Kneeland Cratsley, president
Beatrice Ruth Flood, secretary
John Allan McGibbeny, treasurer
- To study deeply the subject of drama.
- Kappa Theta Gamma devoted most of its time this year to two projects. They sponsored and directed the activities of the Freshman dramatic club, Green Dominoes, and they presented one large-scale production of their own. Directed and acted by members of the club, Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" was the year's Color Day offering. A subtle play, depending on dialogue rather than spectacular action for the working out of Ibsen's idea, "Hedda Gabler" was a little more ambitious than anything Wooster has attempted in recent years.

- 1909
- The Debate Seminar, as one might guess, is a Seminar devoted to debating.
- This year the Seminar sent forth debaters to debate for the honor of dear old Wooster U. against teams from Kenyon, Denison, Muskingum, Wayne, West Virginia State Teachers, Wesleyan, Western Reserve, Oberlin, Mt. Union, Carnegie Tech, American, and Allegheny.

From the Seminar comes this year's two members of Delta Sigma Rho—the forensics fraternity. We have it on atrocious authority that these two matched pennies for the honour of being president. Ralph Henderson won. Glen Shepler was given the office of secretary as a consolation prize.

Louis Campbell was first year college orator.

■ 1934

- Lyla Elvira Bechtel, president
Abigail Findley Genso, secretary
Sarah Jeanette McGraw, program chairman
Professor Remp and Professor Sharp, advisors

- To study the current trends in the field of Psychology.

- The Psychology Club assembles every two weeks or so. The members read papers about current trends, or the advisors report on conventions and things. Along in April the Club held a banquet at the famed Darby and Joan.

The meeting of the year that created the greatest furore was that when the esteemed Mr. Munson hypnotized—with Svengalesque diabolatry—a number of handsome male and beautiful female members.

PEMBROKE

■ 1919

- Marjorie Wilford Glenn, president
Mary Jane Payton, vice president
Elizabeth Jane Wilson, secretary
Marian Irene Beans, treasurer

- A women's club that is really interested in literature.

- This year's activities have concerned Russia. Faculty members have spoken on Russia. A Russian tea was held. Jerome Davis was entertained at a tea where he discussed Russia. A trip was made to Cleveland to see the Ballet Russe.

When nothing really exciting was happening, the members read their various literary efforts. These were duly relegated to the Pembroke Scrapbook.

BIG FOUR

- 1931
- David Idwal Rees, president
Sara Jane Moses, vice President
Ann Rodney Bonsall, secretary
William Frank Linn Kieffer, treasurer
- To coordinate the religious activities of the campus.
- The whole religious set-up of Wooster centers in the Big Four Cabinet, which is made up of the officers of the YMCA, YWCA, CE, and SV. During the Fall Retreat at Lakeland Beach the year's activities are discussed and outlined. Early in the year are held the All-College Reception, the Freshman Reception, and the early morning walk-out. This year Dr. Thomas Guthrie Speers was the guest preacher for the Week of Prayer. On March 20, 21, and 22, Dr. Jerome Davis, of the Yale Divinity School, led a series of seminars on Modern Social Trends. Big Four supports a Wooster graduate as a missionary in India through the cooperation of the faculty and student body.

George Jackson Taylor, manager
Kenneth Edmund Sell, secretary
Thomas Butterworth Foster, press agent
William C. DeVeney, director

- To encourage those men who enjoy singing in their laudable ambition to sing.
- The Glee Club made various short trips to Ohio towns during the first semester. The second semester it was more active, what with the dance with the Girls' Glee Club, the trip to the State contest at Bluffton, and the Spring holidays tour east to Washington, Trenton, New York, Pittsburgh, and many other points of geographical interest.

 Helen Louise Pfaff, vice president
 Josephine Bosworth Wishart, secretary
 Wendell Leroy Wylie, manager
 Eve R. Richmond, director
- To give the musical women of the College a chance to display their vocal prowess.
- Under Miss Eve Richmond the Glee Club has completed yet another successful year. The Club made its annual trips to Canton, Massillon, and Cleveland. There were also other trips to other places. The town and the College were twice privileged to hear the Club, in the sacred concert at the First Presbyterian Church, and in the secular concert—featuring selections from grand opera—at the College Chapel.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

■ 1915

- John Ralph Gillman, president
Harriet Julia Klock, vice president
Mary Ann Neel, secretary
William Frank Linn Kieffer, treasurer

- To make a thorough study of music.

- Early each year Fortnightly holds a formal reception to look over the crop of candidates for membership. The neophytes not elected feel very glum for two or three weeks; then they forget about it. Fortified with its new members, Fortnightly studies seriously the music of various countries. Members read ponderous papers and sometimes give musical illustrations of what they have been reading.

High points of the year are the Spring banquet and the opera. This year's opera, presented in March, was "The Secret of Suzanne", with Eugene Batza and Edith Blair.

- 1914
- Thomas Butterworth Foster, president
Elizabeth Fox Workman, secretary
Robert French Darrow, treasurer
Ernest Noe Bigelow, librarian
Ann Rodney Bonsall, social chairman
Neill O. Rowe, director
- To provide worshipful music for Westminster Church.
- Each Sunday the Choir leads the congregational singing of the Church and provides an anthem.
There were two special services this year.
At Christmas time the Choir rendered Handel's Messiah, with the Misses Richmond, Richards, Blair, and Klock, and Mr. Cunningham as soloists.
On Easter the Requiem Mass of Brahms was sung. Miss Richmond and Mr. Batza were the soloists.

George Chalmers Browne, treasurer
Donald Edward Hagaman, librarian
Douglas Rogers Murray, drum major
William Frank Linn Kieffer, student conductor
Robert Esser, faculty conductor
Neill O. Rowe, advisor

- To provide rah-rah music ever and anon.

- At football games, basketball games, and pep meetings of all sorts the band is much in evidence, booming out traditional melodies and instilling in our hearts a fervid love for dear old Wooster U. The concert band is a far, far different matter. As the buds bud and the leaves leaf, Professor Esser softens the blare of the trumpets and modulates the crash of the drums.

UPPER-CLASS WOMEN

For the last twenty years Holden Hall has sheltered the chaotic lives of upper-class women. Accompanied by Carlos' baritone, the quack of ducks, call bells, and telephones, an occasional male intrusion, feminine shrieks, white leather couches, Persian rugs, and Miss Moore's infallible cheer, Holden has completed another year of ministry to the cause of womanhood.

Social activities this year consisted in faculty dinners, two dances, and a Color Day reception.

Almost Blood.

One dark night, recently, while HARRY MILLER was quietly pedestrianizing North Market street to his humble abode, he accidentally collided with some passing stranger, who, in a wrathful mood, desired to know if the affair was preconcerted with malice aforethought. To this HARRY fearlessly replied in the negative, alleging that the collision was entirely unintentional on his part. But the trade townsman was of a skeptical turn of mind, and wickedly denominated our hero a liar. At this unsavory salutation HARRY immediately divested himself of superfluous garments and demanded, in stentorian tones, to be informed whether his adversary was in "dead earnest" and intended to insinuate that he embroidered the truth. A reply in the affirmative was vouchsafed, when HARRY rehabilitated himself and overwhelmed the stranger with these belligerent words: "If you say it in earnest, it's all right; but I don't allow any one to call me a liar in fun!" They thereupon shook hands and immediately went down to "see CHARLEY." Thus was bloodshed averted and the peace of Wooster undisturbed.

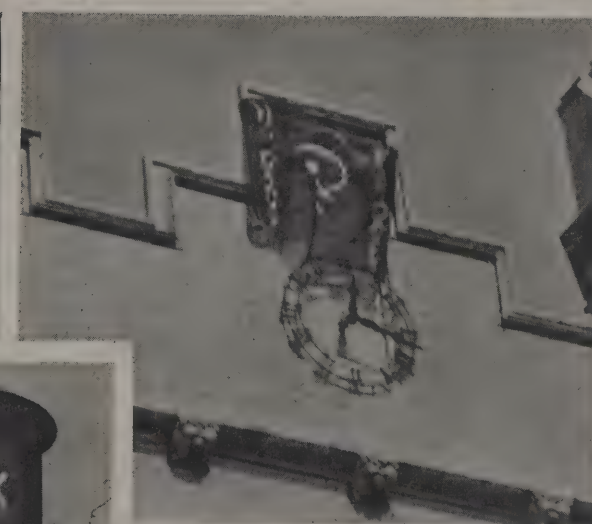

George Byron being arrested for blockading the sidewalk, by "his nias" Huler, of the Wooster Metropolitan Police Department.

"The Wooster Hardware Store" still has the lead.

FOOTBALL SUMMARY FOR 1935

Wooster opened its 1935 football season with a 41-9 victory over an inexperienced Hiram team. The Scots were superior in all departments of the game, with a blocked kick, end runs, long dashes, and a pass giving Wooster her scores. Unexpected opposition was given by the Wittenberg Lutherans but the Scots tallied their extra-point goal to win 7-6. A 72 yard drive led to the only Wooster tally. The Scots held a 13-6 advantage in first downs, but their offense was listless near the goal line.

A fast, hard driving Case team edged Wooster 12-6 with a series of single, double and triple reverses, combined with their hard running attack. Wooster made numerous goal line stands but twice they could not hold off the Scientists. A cut back through tackle scored for Wooster after a 61 yard drive down the field. Completely outsmarting Akron on a bootlegger play Wooster eeked out a 7-0 score over the Zippers. The Scots tight defense thrust back all the Akron assaults to mar a Homecoming Day for Akron.

Mount Union with its best team in several years was held to a single score and Wooster sent them home with a 7-7 tie. A four man screen of interference led to the Scots' only score on an end run from the 25 yard line. The Muskingum jinx again prevailed and the Scots suffered a 14-0 defeat. A five man line defense puzzled the Black and Gold, but the Muskies scored on a freak play and again on a line plunge.

A Homecoming Day crowd of 5,000 people witnessed a scoreless tie against Oberlin. Continuous fumbling marred Wooster's scoring opportunities. The Scots were inside the 15 yard stripe four times but each time they were repulsed. Participating in a Founder's

Day program at Washington and Jefferson the Scots were crushed by a 26-0 score. The Scots lacked offensive punch and muffed several scoring chances. Long marches of 48, 44, and 40 placed them within scoring distance.

In the last game of the year with Baldwin-Wallace, the highest scoring team in the nation snowed under the Scots, 57-0. A baffling aerial attack and lightning-like runs scored many times on the puzzled Wooster line and secondary.

Nineteen letters were awarded, a number to juniors and sophomores who will form the nucleus of the 1936 eleven.

SEASON

This year Wooster College had a fast, scrappy aggregation of basketball players. Winning ten Ohio Conference games while losing only five placed Wooster near the top in the Conference standings.

Opening the season the Scots got off to a poor start by losing to Wittenberg, 48-35. In the first home game of the year the Scots drubbed John Carroll 41-30 in a fast scoring offensive spree. Wooster displayed considerable strength over a highly rated Denison team and upset the Big Red 50-35.

Although outscoring the Mount Union team the first half by a big margin the Scots coasted the second half until the Purple caught up, and won the game 36-31. But Wooster came back to win from Oberlin in a fast game, 54-48. In this game Frascella set a new individual scoring record of 33 points for one game.

OF 1936

In Cleveland at Case, in a game that went into the overtime period, Wooster scored a 56-52 victory. On the spacious Goodyear floor Wooster was defeated by an Akron team, 63-67. Wooster's defense and offense clicked to stop Otterbein, with their two All-Ohio players, 46-34.

The Scots took an easy triumph over Ashland on the Ashland court, 55-41. The home game with Case was a repetition of the thriller at Cleveland, with the Scots again victorious, 40-38.

The Scots lost to Baldwin-Wallace 52-26 on their floor, but in the next game they won over Muskingum, 43-36.

In the second game with Mount Union Wooster was again defeated 51-41 at Alliance. But the Scots repaid Akron when they defeated the Zippers 58-45 with a fast attack on the home floor. The season closed with a 44-38 victory over Ashland.

SEVERANCE STADIUM

Wooster completed the 1935 baseball season with an excellent record of eight triumphs against five defeats. The outstanding game of the season was Dave Rees' one hit triumph over Baldwin-Wallace, the Scots winning 1-0. On Commencement Day Wooster lost to Hillsdale College in a ten inning battle. The lead see-sawed back and forth during the entire game.

In the second game of the year the Scots' nine vanquished Capital University 10-7. Capital claimed the Ohio Conference championship in baseball last year.

A pitching staff of Gotshall, Boren, Fuhrman, Snyder, and Rees was unequalled in the Conference.

Players who received letters were Gotshall, Fuhrman, Boren, James, Ricatto, Pender, Curfman, V. Dodez, R. Smith, and manager P. Dodez. The last six mentioned return to the team this year.

TRACK: 1935

Wooster again completed an outstanding year in track. The 1935 season provided many thrills on the oval as the trackmen won five of their six dual meets, being able to topple all opposition except Oberlin.

Wooster was particularly strong in the mile, two mile and field events. The Scots' distance combination of Chegwidden and McCalmon finished at the top in nearly all the meets. Letters were awarded to Chegwidden, McCalmon, Ferguson, Bishop, Smith; A. Taliaferro, R. Taliaferro, Rees, Allen, Drabenstott, and Morrill.

BIG SIX: 1935

Wooster entertained 17 teams in the eighth running of the Big Six Track and Field Meet May 24 and 25 as a climax to the 1935 track season. The list of contestants was the largest in the history of the organization. The bright spot of the meet was the close race in the two mile between George Manlove of Oberlin and Bob Chegwiddden of Wooster, in which Chegwiddden was pressed on to a new meet record of 9 minutes, 51 seconds. This was the only record broken during the entire meet.

Oberlin's well balanced team was a little too strong for the Wooster runners, but the Scot team finished a strong second.

TENNIS

SOCCER

The soccer team played a very light schedule this year, the only games being a home and home series with Oberlin. The Scots held the Yeomen to a 2-2 tie at Oberlin, but dropped the return game by a 3-0 score. The outstanding players were Wiley, Coach; Midkiff; Love; Vance; and Frascella.

GOLF

Becker, Mathis, Carpenter, Barrett.

SWIMMING

Knight, Murschel, Lehman, MacWilliams, Reinhardt, Ferguson, Hull, Creighton, Schofield, W. Stoneburner, L. Stoneburner.

Victorious in ten of the thirteen dual meets, the Scot swimmers completed the largest swimming schedule Wooster has ever had. The only double defeat was registered by Case, and one setback by Oberlin, though they were defeated by the Scots in their first meet. In the first Big Six swimming meet the Wooster team placed second, losing first position by a few points to the strong Oberlin squad.

This year a number of changes were instituted in the events. The 100 yard sidestroke was added, and also the 100 yard free style. The backstroke was altered somewhat by starting with a racing dive, the turnover on the back being completed under the water. This enabled many swimmers to lower their pool records in the backstroke.
